Pa. Rep. Kerry Benninghoff

Dear State Representative:

Centre County is rife with criminal activity, much of which occurs within the vicinity of law enforcement, prosecutors, and judges. I have conducted a sting operation on the Centre County District Attorney's Office that has finally implicated the District Attorney Stacy Parks Miller and now all of her assistant district attorneys. I have enclosed three private criminal complaints, submitted to the Centre County District Attorney's Office, which have been completely ignored by said Office, complaints which should provide the basis for initiation of impeachment proceedings.

As a Pennsylvania citizen and Centre County resident, I am aware of the lack of respect the community maintains for the criminal justice system. My fellow citizens are afraid to act and are ignorant of the tools available to them, to help our community to uphold the integrity of our government. I know that criminal prosecution is one long-standing tool, so long as our officials put effect to such justice.

My criminal complaints are the tip of the iceberg; they are softballs which the DA's Office should have easily handled. Even if the DA's Office did not care to handle the complaints in good faith, someone could have hacked together a dubious reason for disapproval and returned each complaint. I do not believe this is mere negligence, but rather is retaliatory (perhaps mixed with feelings that such public officials must have titles of nobility and are invincible to consequences of their conduct,) because said DA's Office does not appreciate my civic activities.

Your awareness of this issue is important, whether you feel the need to request further evidence or decide not to institute such removal proceedings immediately. Once someone begins to approve, or at least respond to, my complaints, I can begin forwarding a series of complaints of significant crime perpetrated by public officials in Centre County.

The crime which surrounds me tires me, and for which I am often subject as a victim, for no more than my political beliefs and my conduct as a civic individual, a steward of my community, and as a proper citizen. Please tell me how I can best coordinate with your office as to seek removal of public officials whom engage in nonfeasance, misfeasance, malfeasance, misbehavior in office, and felony perjury of the oath/affirmation of office, among their many other crimes. Let us make Pennsylvania great again.

Sincerely,
